

Angus Adult Protection Committee

Assessment and Decision Making

Target audience:

This seminar is aimed at practitioners, team leaders and managers from all agencies involved in the support and protection of adults.

Participants should have an understanding of their agency's adult support and protection policies and procedures and have previously attended an introductory course on adult support and protection.

Aims and objectives:

- To develop participants' awareness of the needs of adults and when they may be at risk of harm
- To consider the circumstances which lead to adults being in need of support and protection
- To consider the complexities of supporting and protecting adults
- To help staff identify risks and protective factors – for individuals, in families, and within professional systems
- To enhance participants' contributions to assessment and decision making
- To consider personal, professional and organisational values and thresholds
